COACHING FESTIVAL

Bags of Inspirations brought to you by British School of Coaching

The 2019 Coaching Festival promises to be a learning event unlike any other! Great content, great speakers, great facilitators and a great coaching community are together in one place. We have 11 learning blocks which will give you plenty of opportunities to acquire new knowledge, skill and ideas. Sessions are interactive and there are opportunities for discussions and questions throughout the day. In the afternoon we will all come together to work with an internationally recognised coach and writer of coaching and mentoring best-sellers. The festival will explore topics - from learning from the buyers perspective, running an internal coaching Scheme, marketing yourself digitally, Coaching Supervision, building creative approaches to coaching. Meet, share practice, build your network and grow your business.
